VICE-PRESIDENT SCHALKBURGER TAKES KRUGER'S PLACE.

Flight of the President, Gen. Botha's Withdrawal and a General Breaking Up of Commandos — Buller Occapies Spitzkop —Gen. Roberts Issues Another Proclamation.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. From THE SUN'S correspondent at Pretoria. PRETORIA, Sept. 14.—The flight of President Krüger to Lorenzo Marques, the turning over of his command to Gen. Viljeen by Gen. Botha on account of illness, and the daily breaking up of Boer commandos are everywhere condered as an indication of the speedy termination of the war. Vice-President Schalkburger has taken the place of President Kruger.

The eastward advance of the British is moving on in a broad sweep seventy miles long through the broken valleys and mountains of the Transvani Drakensberg. Gen. French is at the extreme southern point, toward Barberton, with Gen. Hutton supporting him. Gen. Pole-Carew is in the centre at the railway near Godwin River. Gen. French's advance has been strongly op-

In the extreme north, Gen. Buller has had magnificent success and has driven the Boers over the passes toward Spitzkop. Gen. Ian Hamilton is supporting Gen. Buller. The Boers who were at Warmbath appear to have retired to the northward. The system of garrisoning towns with field forces for the surrounding districts is meeting with great Gen. Methuen is clearing the country road to Zeerust. Gen. Clements is between Krdgersdorp and Rustenburg, while (ien. Barton near the former place. Gen. Bradley is at Heidelberg.

The British commanders hope that within the next two weeks the Boer headquarters in the east of the Transvaal will be surrounded or the commandos dispersed. Then the final quelling of the opposition to the British in the various districts will, it is thought, be speedily

Warm weather will soon make it impossible for the Boers to keep their cattle in the bush reldt, and they are already driving them south. Small bands of Boers continue to threaten attacks on the railway south and east. The railway is too strongly guarded, however, for them to achieve any success. LONDON, Sept. 14.-The War Office has re-eived the following from Lord Roberts, dated Machadodorp, Sept. 13: "Buller has occupied Spitzkop. He found 30,000 pounds of supplies, principally of rice eugar, flour and coffee, and 300 boxes of ammu-"An engineer convoy which was escorted by the Ninetcenth Hussars was attacked at the Crocedile River. The engineers have returned, but there is no news of the escort. 'Ian Hamilton's force has replaced Pole Carew's brigade at Watervalonder, from which place Carew's command reached Godwin to-day. The enemy abandoned the place, and the Godwin bridge was blown up. "Rundle has arrived at Bethlehem. Boers nearby attacked a patrol of yeomanry. The Boers retreated after demanding the surrender of the patrol and threatening to give no quarter

"Hart reoccupied Potchefstroom on the 11th, the mounted men having covered forty-ave miles and the infantry thirty-five miles without rest in order to surprise the Boers. The plan succeeded admirably, and at dawn some Boers rode out of the town into the arms of the British and were made prisoners. The alarm was sounded and the Boers endeavored to escape in small parties. Some were shot and a few The remainder rushed back into town and were captured.

"Clements advanced against Delarey's burghers, who retired north to Magaliesberg. Delarey admitted forty casualties.

"On Sept. 11, Krüger fled to Lorenzo Mar-Botha is in ill health and has temporarily relinquished command of the Boers to Viljoen, who is reported to be at Nelsprult."

PROCLAMATION BY ROBERTS.

He Says That Kruger's Desertion Should Show

LONDON, Sept. 14 .- The War Office has received this despatch from Gen. Roberts, dated Machadodorp, Sept. 13:

"I have widely circulated a proclamation stating that the late President Krüger and State Secretary Reitz, with the archives of the South African Republic, have crossed the Portuguese frontier and arrived at Lorenzo Marques, with a view to sailing for Europe at an early date; that Kruger has formally resigned as President, thus severing his official connection with the Transvaal; that his action shows how useless, in his opinion, is the war, and that his desertion of the Boar cause should make it clear to his fellow countrymen that it is useless to continue the war

"The proclamation continues: 'Fifteen thousand Boers are now prisoners. No intervention can come from the Powers, as Britain is determined to complete the work it has

"If any further doubts remain in the minds of the burghers as to her Majesty's intentions. they should be dispelled by the permanent manner in which the country is being occupied by her Majesty's forces.

'I take this opportunity of pointing out that, except in a small area under the personal command of Boths, the war is degenerating and has degenerated into operations carried on an irregular and irresponsible manner, and in very many cases by insignificant bodies of men. I should be falling in my duty to he Majesty's Government and to her Majesty's army in South Africa if I neglected to use every means in my power to bring such irregular warfare to an early conclusion.

The means which 1 am compelled to adopt are those the customs of war prescribe as being applicable to such cases. They are ruinous the country and entail endless suffering on the burghers and their families, and the onger this guerrilla warfare continues the more vigorously must they be enforced."

RUMORS ABOUT KRUGER.

Marques-Future Plans.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. LORENZO MARQUES, Sept. 14.-President Krüger has left the house of Mr. Potts, the Consul of the Transvaal, and taken up his residence with the district Governor. ROME. Sept. 14 .- A Lorenzo Marques de spatch to the Capitale says the Dutch Consul at that place has telegraphed to the Consul of the Netherlands at Messina to hire a villa for President Krüger in Sicily.

PARIS, Sept. 14.-The correspondent of THI SUN learns from a most trustworthy source that President Krager of the Transvaal is on his way to Europe for the purpose of seeking the intervention of the Powers.

LONDON, Sept. 15 .- The Telegraph's correspondent at Lorenzo Marques says that Pres!dent Kruger is ostensibly a prisoner at the House of the Governor, to which he was invited by the Portuguese Government, though he preferred to remain at the residence of the Consul of the Transvaal. The French Consul called at the Governor's house to see President Kruger, but was not allowed to do so. Boer officials have also unsuccessfully tried to see him. The correspondent adds that he learns that the President was nominally made a prisoner at the instance of the British onsul, who protested against his using Portuguese territory as a base for communicating guard is posted at the Governor's residence. Most of the Transvaal officials who accompanied President Kruger to Lorenzo Marque have returned to Komatipoort. It is reported burghers at Nelspruit, in which he said that although the Boer peace delegation had been unsuccessful, he would go to Europe and call for the intervention of foreign Powers. He added that the burghers must not lose heart.

The war was just commencing.

Vice-President Schalkburger came to Lorenzo Marques and sought to see President Krüger, but was not permitted. He has returned to the Transvaal. The British warships Doris and Partridge have arrived. The latter made a circle of the inner bay on Friday.

Boers' Supplies Exhausted.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. MACHADODORP, Sept. 12.—The supplies of the Boers have been exhausted. The troops have not been paid and are clamoring for their wages STATE WORKINGMEN'S FEDERATION

An Attempt to Inject Politics Into the Convention Proceedings is Defeated.

Utica, Sept. 14.-Another attempt was made at to-day's session of the Workingmen's Federation of Labor Convention to inject politics into the proceedings. A. J. Boulton of New York presented a long resolution scoring the Republican Administration for its policy in relation to the Philippines and asked for its adoption President Murphy refused to entertain any such resolution unless ordered to do so by the convention. Mr. Boulton defended his resoution by a short speech. He said it was up to the workingmen whether they would protect themselves or not. "Now is the time place ourselves on record," he said. President Murphy explained his ruling. He said that this body is a legislative body and asks favors from all parties. "Every man who works for a living," he said, "has a right

P. J. Daily said it was a "nigger of a resolution" and that he would not stand for it. "I would prefer to have the Democratic platform read here than that resolution," he said.
The substitute motion to refer back to the committee was lost. The decision of the Chair that no resolution of a political character would be recognized was unanimously sustained.
The following resolution, offered by Harry White of New York, was, however, adopted:

Resolved, That the Workingmen's Federation of the State of New York, in keeping with the attitude of the American Federation of Labor, and in the light of recent events, hereby places itself on record as strenuously protesting against any increase being made in the regular army.

A motion was made that the convention extend its sympathy to the Galveston sufferers and donate $50. After considerable debate the convention voted the sympathy but withheld the money, declaring that charity began at home. The charges against State Factory Inspector Williams were referred to the Central Federated Union of New York. The convention will conclude its work to morrow.

GIRL LURED TO A QUEER HOUSE. The Proprietress Used to Smile at Her From the Window, She Says.

Julia Gallagher, 14 years old, disappeared from her home, 1680 Avenue A. on July 3. She was found yesterday by Gerry Agents Agnew and Fogarty at 244 First avenue. The girl explained, when she had been taken into custody as a runaway, that Mrs. Martha Hennessy, the tenant of the house, had won her away from

"She used to smile at me from her window as I passed by," the girl told Agent Agnew, and I finally went to visit her, and in the end went to stay with her for good."

CHURCHES' PROSPERITY:

$4,000,000 TO BE PUT INTO CHURCH BUILDINGS WITHIN SIX MONTHS. That Is the Estimated Expenditure for This

City-Some of the Work That Is Going On and Projected-An Unusual Autumnal Activity in Expanding Religious Work. Rarely has there been an autumn when so nuch money was going into buildings de signed for religious purposes as is the case at present in all the boroughs of New York city. Since Bishop Potter's return last March from his tour of the world about $600,000 jhas been raised for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Archbishop Corrigan reported to the Pope on his recent visit! the completion of 264 new buildings during the ten years just passed. On the first year of his new decade the Archbishop starts at even a faster rate of progress Other denominations are not behind hand. Not less than $4,000,000, according to presen estimates, is to go into religious edifices in New York within the next few months. The largest single amount is represented in the erection of the choir of the new Episcopal Cathedral, involving an expenditure of about $750,000, but the new Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum on Fordham Heights will be close behind it with $600,000. The roof of one of the main buildings of the latter is now on, and work is progressing on the interior. During the past summer $160,000 has been put into repairs on Manhattan and Bronz churches, and $85,000 upon repairs to Brooklyn churches. To-morrow Archbishop Corrigan will lay the cornerstone of a new St. John Chrysostom's Church, which is to cost $80,000, for the parish recently formed next to Hunt's Point. At Melrose a new Roman Catholic church is to be erected costing $60,000. Recently a large tract east of the Home for Incurables at Fordham has been purchased and an outlay of at least $200,000 is contemplated in building a church. parish house, school and clergy house. far from there in Tremont there has just been completed a new St. Joseph's Catholic Church, at Washington avenue and 178th street, to take the place of the old structure on the same avenue at Washington avenue and 178th street, to take the place of the old structure on the same avenue at 176th street. The cost was $140,000. A Polish parish in Manhattan has near completion a new church in East Seventh street that is to cost $80,000. Plans for the new Lady Chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral call for an expenditure of $240,000.

St. Bartholomew's Episcopal parish is spending $290,000 on a new clinic. In Brooklyn a new St. Mark's Episcopal Church is projected, to cost $175,000. Other Episcopal work already decided upon involves the expenditure of not less than $200,000, well distributed in all boroughs, and for the most part in small, new parish churches. Christian Scientists are putting $400,000 into new buildings. Within a fortnight the cornerstone of a new Lutheran church is to be laid in Manhattan, the cost of the church building being estimated at $90,000. Other Lutheran projects foot up about $100,000 in expenditures. The Young Men's Christian Association will put into improvements on regular branches not less than $100,000, mainly on Washington Heights branch and the East Side branch. A permanent headquarters in this city for all North American work of the Y. M. C. A. is contemplated at a cost of $150,000. A new paval branch association building is going up in Brooklyn at a cost of $150,000. The new Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church will cost $150,000, but a much larger expenditure in other buildings is contemplated by the same congregation. Baptists are to put up a new church in The Bronx to cost $40,000, and are building one in Brooklyn at a cost of $75,000. The new Shaari Zedek Synagogue of Harlem will be completed a week hence, to be used on the first of the Jewish holidays. Its cost will be $75,000. A new Archangel Episcopal church is projected for Harlem to cost $40,000, The improved times are felt in the churches, if new structures and extensions are to be taken as evidence.

Threatened Lock-Out of Engineers. International Association of Engineers, which is now in convention in Arlington Hall in St Mark's place, said yesterday that he would have to start at once to Elwood, Ind., to try and prevent a lock-out of engineers there. The engineers, he said, are employed by the American Tin Plate Company, and are sixty in number. They were threatened with heing locked out at the different factories where they are employed, and the lock-out, Bennett said, would spread unless it was prevented. He said that the company offered the engineers 10 per cent. advance in wages and told them that they must not belong to any union but that the engineers refused to accept the conditions.

MISSIONARIES ON THE HANCOCK. RIOT INQUIRY BROKEN OFF. They Reach San Francisco After Great Hard

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The United States army transport Hancock arrived this morning from the Orient, bringing four army officers and four families of missionaries, refugees from North China. Capt. John Bradley, Assistant Quartermaster, was the army officer in charge of the transport during the voyage. Army officers on board are Major E. L. Dravo, C. S. U. S. A., First Lieut. E. D. Sterrett, Fourth Cavalry; Lieut. W. C. Davidson, and M. S. sullivan, clerk of the Subsistence Department; Assistant Surgeon R. T. Williams and four hospital corps men. The Missicnaries aboard the Hancock include

M. J. Hotvedt, Rev. E. C. Bowen, Rev. W. E-Manley, wife and two children, Rev. Mr. Jones wife and two children, Rev. J. D. Dawse, wife and baby, Miss O. Hodenfield and Miss B. G. Forbes. All the missionaries suffered great hardships in escaping from their stations and they lost all their property. Rev. D. Jones and family escaped from Hupet. He was agent for the American Bible Society. As he, his wife and eleven-year-old boy came down Han River the steamer upset. The Chinese put off in boats, but instead of helping the unfortunates they looted their property and Jones lost all the clothing and funds he carried. Rev. J. D. Dawse and family, in charge of the Baptist mission at Shantung, lost everything. James Brooks, an Engli-h missionary, was their nearest neighbor and was killed by Boxers. Rev. W. E. Manley, with wife and two little children, came from Ching King where they were attached to a Methodist mission. They were in peril from Boxers and at one time from Imperial troops. This party came down the river Yangtse on an old steamer whose boiler exploded, but all were saved.

Capt. Bradley, Quartermaster of the Hancock, was at Tlentsin four days after the great fight there. Capt. Bradley says the allies devastated the whole country from the mouth of the river to Tientsin. They burned everything, he said, and the country is in a deplorable condition. The Russians are running the railroad from Tientsin, though only 35 miles of it are in operation. It will be fully three months, perhaps longer, before the road will be clear to Pekin. and eleven-year-old boy came down Han River

LABOR MEN AGAINST STANCHFIELD. He Opposed the Proposed Employers' Liability Law and Worked for Its Defeat. UTICA, Sept. 14 .- John B. Stanchfield of Elnira, the Democratic candidate for Governor of this State, will be strongly opposed by the labor interests at the coming election, spective of political affiliations. That this is the case is evidenced by the strong sentiment expressed by delegates attending the annual convention of the State Workingmen's Federation of Labor in session in this city. Mr. Stanchfield appeared before the Legis lative committee in opposition to the proposed Employers' Liability law and worked for its defeat. This law was one upon which the organized labor interests decided to stand or fall last winter. The Democrats at Saratoga indorsed the law, and now the spectacle is presented of the head of the ticket repudiating the platform upon which he stands. The majority of delegates at the convention here are Democrats, but on account of Stanchfield's cord on labor questions it can safely be said judging from their expressions of opinion, that they will either support an independent nom-

ROME, N. Y., Sept. 14.-Rear Admiral Montgomery Sleard, retired, was stricken with apoplexy at 9 o'clock this morning at his summer home at Westernville, near this city. He died in a few minutes.

Rear Admiral Montgomery Sicard, who was well known here from having been commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard from 1894 to 1897, was a New Yorker by birth, having been born here in 1836 He entered the Naval Academy at the age of 15. He received a Lieuten ant's commission in 1860, and two years later, in the opening of the war, he was made Lieutenant-Commander and took part in the bom bardment of Forts Jackson and St. Philip and the passage of the Vicksburg batteries He took part in the engagement with the Arkansas and in the three attacks on Fort Fisher. For two years after the war Admiral Sicard was a professor in the Naval Academy. During his sea service, which followed, he may a special study of ordnance and his success in that direction was rewarded by his appointment in 1881 to be Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, a place which he held until 1890. While Chief of the Ordnance Bureau Admiral Sicard achieved great distinction, as it was under his direction that the change from the old styles of naval ordnance was made and steel highpower guns were introduced. He superintended their manufacture and was also President of the Steel Board which had in charge the testing of armor for ships and guns. The success which followed the introduction of new ordnance in the navy earned for Admiral Sicard a reputation as an expert in such matters. He was appointed to command the Portsmouth Navy Yard in 1894, which was the year he received the rank of Commodore. He
while there been promoted to the rank of Rear Admiral and became commander of the North Atlantic squadron. Admiral Sicard was the commander of the ships which began to gather at Key West when war with Spain was seen to be imminent. His health at that time began to fail, and recognizing that it might interfere with his duties, he resigned the command of the fleet in favor of Admiral Sampson. The Board of Medical Survey found him unfit for duty and placed him on sick leave, but upon his partial recovery from illness he was appointed, at the instance of the President. ment in 1881 to be Chief of the Bureau of Ordnin unit for dity and placed him on sick leav but upon his partial recovery from illness i was appointed, at the instance of the Presiden as the head of the Board of Strategy, and it his advice on the naval campaign played a important part in the conduct of the war.

NEGROES' COUNSEL WALKS OUT AFTER A FINAL WRANGLE. sked by Police Commissioner Abell What He's There for, Anyway-Final Demand for a Different Course in the Investigation Denied-Moss Quits, Too. With a Last Protest The Police Board held another hearing yeserday on the charges of brutal clubbing of. negroes in the recent West Side riots. It ended by counsel for the negroes leaving the room Nothing was said about resuming. Three reporters for morning newspapers who were present in the West Thirty-seventh street police station on the first night of the riots testified that they saw the negro, Elliott, in the midst of a crowd of policemen in the back room of the station house, that some of the policemen were kicking at him, while one was hitting at him with a club. They could not see the blows land because the crowd surrounding Elliott was too great, but they did see him struggling up from between them and they heard him cry, with hands pressed to his head, "For God's sake, don't kill me!" One reporter estified that he protested to Capt. Cooney and that the negro was then taken to a cell. Sergt. Ryan, Doorman Taylor, the driver of the patrol wagon and the West Side prison iailer testified that Elliott had no bruises and made no complaint. Lawyer Israel Ludlow. who represents Elliott and other negroes, and who declared at the first hearing that the investigation was "a premeditated whitewash. again vainly tried to question the police witnesses. Each time President York shut him up "I tell you now, and I don't intend to tell you again," said President York, finally, "that I wont have you questioning these witnesses. If you've got evidence give it to us, and if you If you've got evidence give it to us, and if you don't like my ruling you know what you can do. If you're bound to talk you can hire a hall."

Lawyer Frank Moss, in his mildest tone, tried to step in as peacemaker. "I should like to say," said he, "merely as amicus curiae...."

Commissioner Hess leaned forward with a look of deep mystification on his face.

"What is your proposition, Mr. Moss?" said he. But President York wouldn't let Mr. Moss go ot.

"No, sir," said he, bringing his fist down emphatically on the desk, "we don't want any—any of that here."

"I have enough evidence to prove this clubbing case already," continued Lawyer Ludlow in a rather strenuous tone. "I now demand that you, as a public official, who is conducting this investigation cease to continue it as it is being conducted and bring Capt. Cooney up for trial."

A long wrangle followed in which President York refused to do any such thing. Com-missioner Abell, whose eyes had been closed for some time, suddenly opened them. "What are you here for, anyway," said he. "You'd better go away," put in Commissioner Hess.

"You'd better go away, put in conHess.
"If you don't put Capt. Cooney on trial," cried Lawyer Ludlow, "the public will consider it as an official confession that Cooney is guilty;" Then, pale and with hands visibly shaking, he walked out.
"That fellow's dopey, ain't he?" remarked Commissioner Sexton, gazing after the lawyer.

"I'm going to pawn it," said he, laughing: "wont need it any more."

Lawyer Moss handed to President York's awritten statement in reply to President York's statement that all witnesses must be summoned by the board and that the board would not allow counsel for the negroes to question police witnesses. In the letter Mr. Moss said: 'I will not submit to you a list of names of persons who have already suffered from police persecution, only to have them barassed and practically made defendants, while incriminated officers are helped with leading questions affirming their innocency and are protected by their examiner against the exposure of inconsistencies and contradictions in their testimony, If the Elliott case is a sample, that is what would happen in my cases. If the Elliott case is a sample, that is what would happen in my cases. I am, however, ready to go into a regular trial and willing that my witnesses shall be cross-examined by you after I have developed their regular testimony, if I may have the privilege of calling police witnesses and documents and of cross-examining the witnesses for the defence. The whole city knows that these clubbing charges are A CAPITALIST IN JAIL.

PRINCETON, Sept. 14.-Capt. Williamson Pell f the Princeton University football eleven arrived in town this afternoon. He is as brown as a berry after his summer vacation and is in first-class condition to enter upon his duties on the field next Monday. As regards the outlook for the season, he said that it was not particularly bright owing to the graduation of so many veterans in the line. He is not ready to announce the names of the coaches, but well-informed persons say that Balliett, the old centre, will have charge of the line men, while Billy Bannard, half back on the 1800 team, will instruct the candidates for the back field positions. Word has been received that Palmer, end on last year's eleven, will return to college, and it is likely that Charley Young, the old Cornell quarter back, who attended the theological seminary here last fall, will also try for the team. McCord, Reiter and McClave, half backs, are also in town, and it is expected that the rest of the players will arrive to-morrow. Every incoming train brings a crowd of freshmen and there are many husky looking boys among them.

The first regular practice will be held on Monday afternoon, but should the weather continue to be hot the work will be of the lightest possible order. of so many veterans in the line. He is not

NEW HAVEN, Seld. 14. - The Columbia University football team, which is training at Branford Point, lined up for the first time this afternoon. There was no regular practice game, but the players were tried in various positions in the line-up and put through the tricks and signals. The work was harder and faster than signals. The work was harder and faster than it has been since the New Yorkers arrived at the Point. Wright, the big centre rush of last season, arrived to-day. He did not put on his football togs, but will join the squad to-morrow morning. Word was received this afternoon that Harold Weeks will be here on Monday. Head Coach Sanford and Capt. Simons are both anxious to get all the veterans back as soon as possible and have sent urgent appeals to them all.

GOLF. another Cup and a New Record for Travis

Other News. Another cup for Travis and a new record for the course were the interesting features of the Tuxedo golf tournament yesterday. Travis chopped four strokes from Byers's record of 75 of the previous day; doing the eighteen holes in 71. It was in his final round match with Louis Livingston of Westbrook that the score was made. On the ninth hole Livingston laid him a stymie, but Travis replayed the put for the sake of the record and instead of a 4 his medal score for the hole was figured at 3. Livingston, who played admirably throughout, was beaten 5 up and 4 to play. The cards:

W. J. Travis. Garden City: Earlier in the day Travis had disposed of Byers, the Yale player, by 2 up and 1 to play, while Livingston had beaten George Armstrong, 3 up and 1 to play. The cards of these matches follow: ... 5 5 4 3 5 4 3 5 ... 35-73 . M. Byers: 5 5 4 5 4 5 6 6 3- 42

The Ramapo cup for the second division went to G. P. Snow, one of the home players, who beat his clubmate, Dr. E. C. Rushmore, 4 up and 3 to play. The cards:

5 5 4 4 7 4 5 5 3-41 Dr. E. C. Rushmore— By e holes not played.

L. V. Pulsifer of the Orford Golf Club of South Manchester, Conn., won the Wee Wah cup from Howard Page of Garden City, also by 4 up and 3 to play. This ends the match play. To-day there is to be $1.36-hole handicap for a cup presented by Thomas Stokes in which about forty will start. The summary:

Boston, Sept. 14.—J. H. Taylor, the English champion, was at Hamilton to-day and played over the links of the Myopia Hunt Club. In the morning he played a practice round of eighteen-holes with Herbert C. Leeds, finishing in 78, a record for the course. The previous record, 81, was held by Jones, the club professional. In the afternoon Taylor played for practice the best ball of Herbert C. Leeds and Quincy A. Shaw, Jr. No score was kept. To-morrow he will play a thirty-six hole best ball match with Joe Lloyd and J. Jones.

match with Joe Lloyd and J. Jones.

Harry Vardon, as a preliminary to his match to-day when he will play the best ball of C. T. Stout and Douglas Bonner, visited the links of the Richmond Country Country Club yesterday. In quite the usual Vardon manner he smashed the record of the links into small bits. The English expert is in solendid condition, his trips about the country seeming to have put him on edge. There is no doubt but that Vardon will play the game of his life when he meets Taylor in the open championship at Chicago on Oct. 4 and 5. In the morning play yesterday Vardon made the round with A. E. Paterson, the champion of the club, winning by 4 up on the nine holes. Vardon did a 36, two strokes better than the previous record. The cards:

PITTSFIELD, Sept. 14.—The $500 Lenox cup offered annually for competition in the oren tournament of the Lenox Club was won this alternoon by Samuel Frothingham of the Lenox Golf Club, who defeated Harry W. Allen of the Pittsfield Country Club by 4 up and 3 to play. To-morrow the semi-finals and finals for the President's cup will be played. W. W. Hoffman will play A. M. Coates and Frothingham will play F. I. M. Amory in the semi-finals.

In the afternoon Vardon played J. R. Chadwick for nine holes, and then finished out with Otis L. Williams. The cards to low:

The competition this afternoon was for the cup offered by the Board of Managers. Vance of the Pittsfield Country Club and Shaw of the Lenox Club tied for first place and will play off to-morrow. The scores: play off to-morrow. The scores:

NO WARRANT APPLIED FOR AS A RE-

SULT OF THE FRACAS WITH THE KID. The Puglist's Wife Tells a New Story of Cooked-Up Contests Between McCoy and Doc Payne-Goldwater Threatens Arrest of Mrs. Selby for Detaining His Trunk. Mrs. Norman Selby did not carry out he threat yesterday of having her husband, Kid McCoy, arrested for causing a disturbance at her home on Thursday afternoon. She acted on the advice of her counsel, Abe Humine of Howe & Hummel, who said that it would be impolitic at this juncture to have the pugil ist put under bonds to keep the peace. Selby in company with her maid, Carrie Pes singer, visited her lawyer's office and gave her version of Thursday's unexpected affair. Mr Hummel had Mrs. Selby make affidavit of the circumstances and incidents relating to the row. It is the intention, he said, to present the same together with the other papers to Justice Bischoff of the Supreme Court next Monday. Her motion for alimony and counse fees will come up then. Most of the Kid's friends were surprised when they read in the newspapers of the mix-up. They thought that McCoy acted unwisely and that the affair will do more to burt his case than anything else. The boxer still insists that he did not strike his wife on the nose as she alleges. McCoy said: "My wife can go ahead and acouse me of 'faking' all she wants o, but the facts will come out at the trial and I will certainly vindicate myself to the satisfaction of the public and my friends. Mrs. Selby, in discussing Thursday's tut.

faction of the public and my friends."

Mrs. Selby, in discussing Thursday's uit, said yesterday;

"Oh, he did not want anything in the house, That was a mere pretence. Whit he really came for, as I afterward learned, was to try to catch me doing something wrong. When he came I was talking with a gentleman on business. My husband knows him and new knows the legitimate business upon which he called, but the man was dressed in a gray suit when he entered instead of the dark suit he usually wears. When my husband burst into the sitting room he did not recognize the visitor and benton finding something wrong, he declared dramatically: "Ah! ha! ha! so I have found you out at last." Then turning to the visitor he said: 'I will name you as co-respondent when I learn your name.

"As soon as I introduced them my husband recognized the gentleman and understood his business. I forgot to say that my husband used to go around the country engaging in 'fake' fights with 'Doc' Payne, his former sparring partner. Payne would invalariby arrive in a town about two days before the Kid got there. Payne used to make a lot of cracks of what he intended doing and how easy he could heat McCoy. This was followed by a direct challenge to the Kid which was at once accepted. Of course Payne would 'lay down.' This was practiced in many places and all these battle were put on the Kid's record. Payne well under a different name every time he fought McCoy. Payne will readily testify to these facts."

In commenting on the Kid's action in breaking into his house. Mr. Humproll said year.

home to get any personal effects which he left. But he did a very impolitic thing, and I am sure did not act upon the advice of his counsel. For had his counsel requested me to deliver to him any of the personal belongings of the puzilist, the request would have been honored instantly. We have ample grounds for bringing McCoy into a police court, but since he has elected the Supreme Court in which to air his domestic troubles we will meet the issue there. But he is welcome to arrest Mrs. Selby and place her in the police court if he wishes to."

About 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning Samuel Goldwater, who is employed at McCoy's on't behind the cigar counter, called at the selby residence, 249 West Forty-fourth street, and asked for his trunk. Goldwater used to live with the Selbys and rented a room on the top floor for which he paid $3 a week. When the Kid sued for divorce he left the house and joined McCoy, leaving his effects behind. Mrs Selby said said that Goldwater, whom she ordered away several times, tried to break in the parlor window. He went away without getting his trunk when she called an officer. Goldwater said yesterday to Turk Sivn reporter that if Mrs. Selby does not return his property he will have her arrested today. Mr. Hummel has advised Mrs. Selby not to give up the frunk until Goldwater nor her husband would bother her in the future. Jim Wakely said yesterday that he did not wager a cent on the McCoy-Corbett mill, and only bet $200 on McCoy when he fought Maher. The reason why I did not back McCoy when he fought Corbett, "pursued Wakely, "was hecause the Kid told me that he thought he was slow on account of gaining ten pounds in weight". The Campania, on which Corbett, his manager, George Considine, and Margeret Cornille, the music hall singer, is supposed to have sailed, is expected to arrive at Queenstown to-day Johnny Considine, Corbett's partner, experts a cable despatch from Corbett announcing the party's safe arrival.

Columbia's Schedule for the Season-The Men in Training. The official handbook and final schedule of games of the Columbia University footba team has been published by the general Athletic Association. The pook contains the previous football records of the university and information regarding the present season. The difficult series of games proposed last spring has been pretty well adhered to in the schedule. Columbia will open the season Oc 3 with Rutgers College at New Brunswic On Oct. 6 Wesleyan plays on Columbia Field for the first time, and Williams will enact the same rôle on Oct. 10. Three days later the meet Harvard in the first hard game local team will journey to Cambridge to meet Harvard in the first hard game. A game with Stevens will be played on Oct. 17 and then comes the second hard struggle with Old Penn at Philadelphia on Oct. 20 A week later Yale will be the attraction on the lumbia Field, and then follows the election day game with Princeton. Strangely enough the eleven will then go to Buffalo on Not. 10 to play the University of Buffalo, and the last game abroad will take place at Annapolis with the naval cadets on Nov. 17. The season will be closed by two home games with Manhattan on Nov. 21 and the Carlisle Indians on Thankse giving Dav.

It thus appears that seven games will be played at home and five abroad to include the list and the new opponents selected are Harvard. Old Penn. Annapolis, Manhattan Wesleyan, Williams and the University of Buffalo. Games have been retained with Yale, Princeton, Carlisle, Rutgers and Stevens.

Coach Sanford is making progress with the candidates at Branford, notwithstanding delays on account of warm weather and high winds. The Weekes brothers are expected at quarters to-day, when the total active squad will number thirty-three men, as follows.
